

Students hear of dance life

STUDENTS from Samson Primary School were treated to a performance from Steps Dance Company at the Playhouse Theatre in Perth last week.

The performance, taken from Steps' latest production Moonwebs and Scorched

Thongs, explored the history and stereotypes of gender.

The trip was part of the Hawaiian Alive initiative – a program developed by property group Hawaiian to provide activities for Perth students that enrich the school's curriculum.

Teacher Marion Burt said the trip to the theatre was well received by students.

Dancers also answered questions from students after the performance and spoke to them about the life of professional dancers.
