

Dancing his dreams

GUILDFORD teenager Harrison Elliott has been dancing for five years and says he has his parents to thank for getting him involved in the art.

"My parents first put the idea into my head and if it wasn't for them I don't know what I would be doing," he said.

"It was my orientation day at Helena College when my parents put me into a dance class at the school. I was the only boy and felt a little bit awkward in the gym full of almost 20 girls."

Harrison is a student at STEPS Youth Dance Company. His previous performances include Check 1, 2 (2005), Powder Monkey (2006) and Dash (2007).

He is working on a project called Moonwebs and Scorched Thongs, to be performed at the Playhouse from April 3 to 6.
